

Americans as a time of mourning and remembrance.

We pay once more our annual tribute of honor to the departed who fell in the late War. Gradually and almost imperceptibly, Decoration Day is becoming an anniversary of genegal mourning when every one Best Makes. places flowers upon the graves of those whose loss they mourn. Grators are also voicing a nation's sentiments.

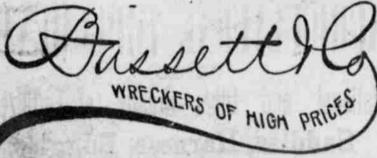

No one mouras the high prices that are continually being knocked out by our low price cash system.

It will bring no better bargains than we are offering throughout our house. No one Buy your summer Un-better with us. money refunded with- bargains. out question if unsat-

For Next Week

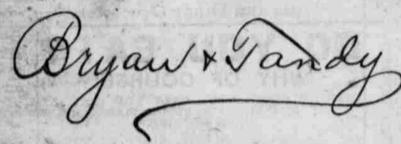

SPECIAL OFFERS:

Full size seagrass Hammoeks, Rattan Rocking Ch Baby Carriages with parasol,

All the new patterns in Glassware in Stock.

Prices lower than ever.

We are the only house in the city that has complete line of Dinner and Toilet

T IS FAR SUPERIOR TO ANY OTHER IN THE MARKET AND IS MADE ONLY BY N·K·FAIRBANK&CO

Newest Things.

That you visit our

Men's Furnishing

Department.

Wholesale Prices.

can meet our prices, no derwear. Don't buy matter what others of- a scarf. Don't buy a fer, you can always do negligee shirt. In fact don't buy anything for yourself or boy until Goods exchanged or you have seen our perfect stock, replete with Good by to the gradie, the dear wooden gradle and rocking

We floaten away into slumber profound.

Good by to the cradle, the dear - .oden cradle,

The child of this era is put into bed:

Se off with old lumber, that sweet ark

THAT PRETTY WIDOW.

Why Her Marriage Was a Disap pointment to Mr. Lynmore.

"Ronsted quails, waiter, half a dozen eysters and a bottle of your best Mo-selle—that will do, I think, and for des-

"A few white grapes and an Italian room with the peculiar bushing move-ment that belongs to the genus, while Mr dostavus bynmore quietly walked up to the buight anthracite fire and stood troking his mustache before the man mildest contentment with himself and all the world beside. "Upon my word," soliloquized Mr.

Lynmore, eying himself complacently, "there's a good deal in—well, I won't say check, for it's a vulgar word—confidence is at once more clegant and

"Now here I am, Gustavus Adolphus Lynmore, without ten dollars in my pocket and without as much as that in any banking establishment, and yet I walk into the first hotel in the city, order the most expensive dinners and insist on the most elegant rooms. And what's more, I get 'em.

"Hello! here's a gray hair in my mustache! Gustavus Adolphus, yon're getting on in life, my boy; it's time you were thinking of settling yourself. Confound gray hairs!"

Mr. Lynmore plucked out the offensve thread of silver, and strolled up and down the room in some perturbation pausing finally at the window, and poking abstractedly out upon the tide of life flowing on in the great thoroughfare below, and the white glimmer of he marble walls opposite.

"By Jupiter, that's a pretty woman! den admiration, as the afternoon sunshine, slanting in direct beams of murky gold into the second-story win- spurn these gifts.

"Much obliged to you, my friend, the opera glass couldn't be better.

ago," dress, loops of black ribbon at the ago,"

Mr. Lynmore endured the zeological Mr. Lynmore endured the zeological young widow! And beautiful enough exhibition with the utmost calmner to drive a fellow distracted! "Upon my word, that woman wouldn't pent was safely coiled up in his iro discredit the name of Mrs. Lynmore. Wonder if she's rich? She must be. Harry. though, to live in the parlor floor of the Celandine hotel. Women can't play the up," sollloquized Gustavas "I've ru confidence game as men do; they're entirely out of cash, and, what's more obliged to have some sort of a base to I'm over head and ears in debt for the a shadow of doubt about it-rich and My darling," he said aloud, in a honeyer pretty, and a widow. Gustavus, my boy, on must see about this-there's un- will please favor me with a brief inter subtedly an opportunity for you! "Hellol a tow-headed little boy, as sure as I'm a living sinner, with his ous, interminable minutes-while Mr head on the pretty crape shoulder! Con- Lynmore sat in morta-dread of the apumbrances, say 1; but then, perhaps, it wouldn't make so very much | dine hotel, and apprehensive as to what

SEE THE POINT? matter into consideration. What's that, waiter? Dinner? Very well-let it be

Mr. Lynmore sat down with an appe tite that was enhanced by an occasiona glimpse of the golden head and rosy theeks at the window across the way. "There—she sees me," he pondered "She sees me, for I saw her smile be hind those lovely golden ringlets—and now she has vanished from the casement. Hello, waiter!"

"The fourth window on the left-hand side, parlor floor, at the Celandine-I've an idea it would be a very nice room to have, in case I leave this hotel-"Yes, sir," said the waiter, coughing doubtfully behind his hand, and secretly hoping that so very stylish a gentleman would remain at the St. Aubrey. "I suppose you can tell me the num-

"Certainly, sir-I used to be hall boy at the Celandine, sir, afore I came here fourth window on the left-hand side, sir, parlor floor-why, it's No. 29." "Twenty-nine, ch? thank you, waiter, I'm very much obliged to you." Half an hour or so afterward Mr. Lynmore strolled accidentally into a Broadway florist's establishment.

"Certamly, Mr. Lynmore - what Well, plenty of white flowers-you know how to express that sort of thing -bumble devotion and unobtrusive ad-

"Yes, sir, I comprehend—I'll endeavor to put the sentiment into shape," replied the aesthetic florist, carefully writing down the order in a red morocco-bound book. "I suppose you are aware we charge extra for these ideal bouquets?" "Expense is no object," said Lynmore, turning loftily away. "Send it to No. 29 Celandine hotel this evening. "Mr. Lynmore -if I might venture to remind you of the little bill you left un-quidated here, a year ago-Bill? oh, yes-how could I be so careless! I'll certainly attend to it immediately, Jansen-much obliged to you for reminding me of it."

bouquet" in a Parian vase between the beholding the pretty widow's Greelau settlenose occasionally dipping daintily he rule hand of Progress has thrust it aside: more to its motion, o'er Sheep's fairs occan ur play weary wayfarers peacefully glide; more by the rhythm of allow moving rocker Their sweet, dreamy fancies are fostered and "I must find out who she is," thought Gustavus. "But the question is, how to do it! I can't go over to the Celan-

It ient to the twilight a mystical charm: When bees left the clover, when playtime was rushing across the street like a race- of "marrying rich"-Boston Globa. horse. Now I never run-if there's anything phobeian it's haste; but Jenkisson was always eccentric. He's coming here-ch-what! lifting his hat to the divinity at the Celandine! He knows her, as sure as the world!".

> his recent sweeping conde haste, ran downstairs into the readingroom and clapped his old acquaintance cordially on the shoulder. "Jenkisson! old fellow, what

"How d'ye do, Lynmore? Excuse me but I'm in a hurry. Steamer sails at cup of sugar and a squeeze of lemon twelve, and it's after eleven now. Is juice: stir very quickly, heap into the that baggage ready, Mike?" "I only want to know who that lady is that you bowed to just now." "O! Why, it's Harry Burke's widow Harry Burke that went off to California and made a fortune and died there two

"Rich as Crosses. But I say, Gus, you portico, smiling amiably the while, to beef. - N. Y. Observer.

reconnoiter the passers-by, and display his unexceptionable costume. "What a very nice little boy!" said Gustavus, stooping to pick up the hoop-stick that had rolled close to the step, and restoring it with a caress. "What's our name? "Harry Burke," lisped the tow-headed boy, looking shyly at the affable stranger, from behind his eyebrows. "Harry, sh? a very pretty name." pu aned Gustavus, patting the tow-head "And doesn't Harry want to go and take a walk with me?"

"Not if we go to a candy store, and afterwards to a toy shop?' Harry Burke's seven-year-old integ rity was not proof against such glitter ing temptations as these; he succumbed at once and trotted off, hand in hand with the cuticing stranger. Master Harry, all unconsclous of the dreadful fate awaiting him, went home to his mamma in a high state of stick down with toys, and directly after wards a bouquet of rosebuds arrived containing Mr. Lynmore's aristocrati ally engraved card

"Dear me, how polite," said the love widow, dimpling and blashing. "Hat then, darling Harry wins all hearts." Darling Harry, forsooth!

The next day Harry went to the park paper and creamy Turkey binding was sent to Harry's mamma: the next day a pearl ring was intrusted to the youth for his mother, the next a pony was hired for Harry to ride, and that evening a diamond of the purest water, se He stopped short, transfixed by sud- in a narrow hoop of gold, was sent up to room No. 29 with Mr. Lynmore' compliments. Nor did the lovely wido dows opposite, lighted up a bright head bending over some absorbing bit of tavas Adolphus, decidedly, "To mor row I'll take Harry to the menageric and in the evening I'll cult, landlord of sunshine," pondered Gustavus. "An no landiord, and declare my sentiments. opera glass couldn't be better. Black We have read each other's eyes long and philosophy, and when the last secage, went home with the rejoicing

"For I really must wind this thing bouquets and rings, and all these inc "Oh, she must be rich; there can't be dental expenses, including the brat voice, "will you ask your mamma if she

Five minutes passed away-five parition of the landford of the Celar difference if there was plenty of each reception might be accorded to his mesin the locker. I really must take this sage. Presently, however, Muster

Highest of all in Leavening Power.-Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Mr. Lynmore promptly followed his small guide up the stairs, his heart the rice in a little milk, so that it may thumping behind his pearl-colored be quite dry when done. Mash it fine,

Press the rice so prepared into small There stood the golden-haired beauty cups or orn mental tin molds; fill them in a lustrons dress of the richest white | full and press it solidly. When they silk, and there moreover, stood a tall, are cold turn them out, place upon a dashing-looking gentleman. Gostavus dish, and pour an ordinary custard

"Jansen, I want a very choice boumore," lisped the 'ady, extending her hand, "and to introduce to you Mr. of cold, holled or stewed cabbage, is to Wyndham, my husband. ' Your-hus-band!"

Gustavus opened his lips and shut cabbace and small etail slumer to ity, with merciless sweetness: "I have Crange Juid Farmer, laid aside every one of your elegant presents for dear little Harry until he sends recipe for a cream soup which is old enough to appreciate them. We she says is very nice for invalids. Put are going to take the sweet child to in a spider a tablespoonful of butte Europe with as to-morrow, but I'm when it is melted add a small cupful of sure he'll never forget his kind friend." bread crumbs or squares of bread, and and got out of the room, he never ex- Stir the york of one egg and one cupful

That little bill of mine, you'll recol- wh'trof there's with sugar added to lace draperies in the fourth window on lect, Mr. Lynmore," said a husky voice, to all a sacra it liver the soup the efficient side-and, moreover, of close in his ear: "If it's convenient to which should have been previously among the fragrant blossoms, with the Lynmore, with a bitter recollection of bright hair falling around like a mist of the diamond ring and the hothouse dine because I bearded there six weeks attempting to defraud the landlord of last year, and came away without paysum of two hundred dollars.

HOME HINTS AND HELPS.

half cup sweet cream, one cup flour

-Omelet Souffle: Grease a large bak-Ing dish with butter. Reat the whites of six eggs to a stiff froth; then beat the yolks, and add with half a coffee- is quite sufficient for six persons.-N. juice; stir very quickly, heap into the dish, dredge with powdered sugar, and fully made and attractively served, beset in a hot oven until a light brown. | comes as dainty a dish as any set to Serve immediately.—Harper's Bazar. -Beef Balls: The beef is seasoned as of ment or several, but all must be for sandwiches, and rolled between the freed from course, stringy fiber and hands into balls the size of marbles; gristle, and cut in very small bits. A until hissing hot; polish with salt, so may be used when there is not corned as to render it perfectly smooth; then or roast beef. Chop the potato and needn't go to making eyes at her; it's having shaken off the sait piace the meat separately, and combine them in bulls on the plate and toss until lightly good by, Gas."

Are Lympurer strolled out upon the agreeable manner of preparing raw nemer and moisten accordingly. agreeable manner of preparing raw eggs in halves, cutting off a little piece to prevent sticking, and spread the from one end to enable them to stand hash flat on the bottom. Cook over alone; pulverize the yolks and chop fine the fire long enough to brown the unsome smoked tougue or lean ham, mix | der side, then cover and set in the oven

ABSOLUTELY PURE

eggs and arrange on a platter.-Home in cold water, then strain it, and bail and while it is hot add a little butter.

-that 81 (w) A nice way to use a dish first clesp it time, then a ld a couple of hard-boiled eggs, slig tor chopped.

enough vinegar to make it as sour a

-Cream Soup: A correspondent poor of into the dish from which it is lowing soun, but it is very nice; and, for the in ther of that, there is nothing thin brown sldn. Put the nuts into a sansepan with enough boiling water to eover them and season with a teaspoon of sugar, one of salt and a part of the yellow rind of a small lemon. After they have boiled for a few moments take them out and rub them through a sieve. Add this puree to the two quarts spoonful of butter and send to the table very hot. Half of this quantity our tables. It may consist of one kind quantity with stock, ould gravy, minutes. When dishing, roll the hash

THE CHANCE OF A

To Secure A Bargain

Rough and Ready hats for school and home

One lot of Trimmed Hats at 50c, cheap for $1.00

We have a nice line of Luce Cartains that goin vear go in this sale at 25c, worth 50c to 75c.

3 Cases of Sailors go at 11 c, worth 25c.

One lot at $1.00, worth $1.50 to $2.00.

many other articles to numerous to mention

May 29 to 31. 3 Days Only.

MRS. ADA LAYNE.

re worth from $6.50 to $8.50.

Property of designs thems Boat the walk

-Rice Cups: Soak the rice all night flarry came jumping down, two steps two parts together to look like whole at a time.

"Mamma says, will you please to

"Here he is, mamma?" bawled the sugar and grated mitmey to taste, boy, flinging the door wide open.

Adolphus stood rooted to the floor. "I am so glad to meet you. Mr. Lyn- cr um. - He ston Budget.

"Yes-we were married this morning; and I was so much obliged to you for of one erg is a pint cup, fill it nearly taking dear little Harry out of the way! You see, children are objectionable at them, spasmodically, without uttering getter for the attentes before a riving.

"And," went on the blue-eyed divin-Mr. Lynmore bowed mechanically, let them brown a little on each side, actly knew how. One thing connected of mills or cream together and add it The next morning Mr. Lynmore had with his retreat, however, he had dis-

"But it isn't convenient," grouned to be served. Prairie Farmer.

"Oh, very well. Here, Jennings!" And Mr. Lynmore, the cosmopolitan, found himself arrested on the charge of

"As I live," thought Gustavus, elevating his eyebrows, "there's Jenkisson at least for the time being, his dreams are coul shell them and remove the (Graham), one teaspoon baking pow-And Gustavus Lynmore, forgetting der, two eggs. Bake in small tine add-Mulces nice cakes for children. - Detroit place a plate in the oven or on the stove | cold chop, a bit of beefsteak, or chicken

-Columbus Eggs: Take twelve hard-boiled eggs, peel off shells and out the Heat a saucepan, put in enough butter ogether and moisten slightly with a where it will cook slowly for fifteen salt and mustard to taste, fill the empty like an omelet and garaish with pars-whites with this mixture. Press the ley.—N. Y. Post.

The BEST FOOT Forward.

THAT IS THE IDEA OF MODERN TIMES.

But either foot is good enough if they $3.00 Calf Shoes around them, and eat with sweetened are encused in a pair of our fine

Fvery Pair Guaranteed In Every Part.

As a side remark allow us to say that our Photo offer still holds good and that hundreds of Men and boys are taking advantage of this oppor-Blant, Hattaballing dithechopped tunity to get a FINE CABINET PHOTO FREE with every SUIT at $5.00 or over we present a Cabinet Photo of the purchaser absolutely free of Any serveding liked may be added to the cabbage after it has been chopped.--

> In our Beautiful New Store ,Corner Main and 10th, Sts Opp. Forbes & Bro. .

J. H. ANDERSON & CO.

THOMAS RODMAN,

thoroughly excellent which is to be had without some troublesome effort. To begin with, make a couple of quarts of well-seasoned stock. Boil a quart of large Spanish chestnuts in their shells large Spanish chestnuts in their shells

EXCLUSIVELY,

3 MAIN STREET.

YOUR PATRONAGE SOLICITED.

The Affairs of Life

Hinge Upon Confidence.

This is peculiarly true when it comes to making your purchases in

Hence we suggest that you make the affair a mere matter of confidence and come to us, where it shall not be misplaced. We have just received another full line of

G. A. CLARK

Capes and Bolero Jackets, In all the new shades, prices lower than ever.

Richards, Klein & Co. UNIFORMLY LOW PRICES.

Yazoo & Mississipi Valley R. R. Co. THE POPULAR LINE

$1.00, these goods are worth from $1.00 to $3.00. NEWPHIS. BATON ROUGE. rareraine a Macnificent and Rren Ficturesque Country steamen Memorial and Vickshury the its acce through some of the dusci coston plants one to the Vasso Mississippi Delta, the mo-prite agricultural section of country on east Fine Hats go in this sale at $5.00, these goods this sale at prices that will surprise you, and All goods sold in this sale will be SPOT CASH and no exchanges made. Commencing May 29, 1893. Pickets, address. Remember the place, Cor, 9th and Main, opposite A. H. HANSON. F. L. DRAKE, Division Passenger Agent.

Mississippi Valley Route J. H. DAGG. ontractor, Builder and Dealer in

LUMBER AND

BUILDERS' MATERIAL

Virginia street, Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

JAS. K. HOOSER

Ninth street, next door to Mrs. Carrie Hart's

Millinery Store, HOPKINSVILLE, KY. A Full Line of Suitings in Stock

Fits Guaranteed.

There is no doubt the most successful way to advertise is to tell the solid truth and we have proved NEXT Manda U

we will do more than ever be-fore. COLLARS, TEAM BREECHING

Phanix Hotel.

Voct 2- Co.